RICH PURSE AS STARTER.

Ivan The Terrible Favorite in Cumberland Derby at Nashville.

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 19.—Tomorrow the annual spring race meeting of the Tennessee Breeders' Association, at Cumberland Park will be opened. The sport to continue eleven days. For the opening day the star feature is the Cumberland derby for 3-year-olds, $7,500 added, at a mile and an eighth. Six starters are on the card, but it seems probable that the Gerst stable will pin their faith to Mc Clellan and reserve Lady Savoy for battles further up the line. In the event, Ivan The Terrible, with H. Phillips, up, will be the public favorite.

JOHANN HOCH ON TRIAL.

Alleged Murderer and Bigamist Has No Plan of Defense.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 19.—Johann Hoch, self-confessed bigamist, was placed on trial in the Criminal Court today for the alleged murder of Mrs. Marie Walker-Hoch, one of his wives.

Hoch was arraigned under the new indictment recently returned against him. He pleaded not guilty. Attorney Isadore Ploke, for the defense, asked Judge Jernstein to continue the case until tomorrow on the ground that counsel wanted time to examine the indictments. Judge Jernstein acceded to the request and court adjourned until tomorrow.

Hoch, it is said, has formulated no definite plan of defense, but will rest on the belief that the State is unable to prove him guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, as required by law.

"Ye Oldie Folks Concerte."

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will give another performance of "Ye Oldie Folks Concerte" at the National Soldiers' Home theatre to-night. The concert was first presented in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church and those who saw it said that it was the best amateur production of its kind ever seen in this city.

ARBOREAL COURTSHIP.

Antics of the Rooks When the Mating Season Begins.

"It is always amusing to watch the rooks in the period of their courtship," says an English writer. "When the male bird first begins to seek a mate the fact is soon made known to the world at large by a curious hoarseening of his voice. There is no accounting for tastes, according to an old proverb, and to the female rook there is no music equal to the hoarseening that her lord begins to show about the middle of January. Then begin the violent tournaments of which she is a passive spectator. The two claimants for her favor often begin pecking at one another at the very tops of the trees, and as in the fury of their onslaught they lose foothold they drop and drop and drop till they bump against the ground, often at the very feet of some human onlooker who has been watching their proceedings with interested curiosity. Darwin tells us of similar incidents in the life history of deer and elms as somewhat of an argument against the doctrine of the survival of the fittest that while two lordly and robust stags are fighting for the hind it will often happen that a timid and feeble third stag will come in and carry off the prize.

"But no such capriciousness as that is allowed the female rook. Probably before the battle begins he who aspires to be her future lord and master has selected the home in which they are to live, and should any other rook attempt to share it with her he will fight him to the death. In this case the survival of the fittest is insured.

"When once they are mated the rooks seem to stick together and be subject to little further molestation, though occasionally, I think, a gay Lothario will attempt to make love where he ought not to. But in that case the whole colony of rooks unite against him and peck and beat him with their wings till he is at the point of death."

WHY INDIANS PAINT.

An Apache Legend Which Accounts For the Grotesque Customs.

Once an old Apache Indian, when asked the question why the people painted their faces, told this little legend:

"Long ago, when men were weak and animals were big and strong, a chief of the red men who lived in these mountains went out to get a deer, for his people were hungry.

"After walking all day he saw a deer and shot at it, but the arrow was turned aside and wounded a mountain lion, which was also after the deer. When the lion felt the sting of the arrow he jumped up and bounded after the man, who ran for his life.

"He was almost exhausted, and when he felt his strength giving way he fell to the ground, calling on the big bear, who, you know, is the grandfather of men, to save him.

"The big bear heard the call and saw that to save the man he had to act quickly, so he scratched his foot and sprinkled his blood over the man.

"Now, you know that no animal will eat of the bear or taste of his blood. So when the lion approached the man he smelled of the blood and turned away, but as he did so his foot scraped the face of the man, leaving the marks of his claws on the blood smeared face.

"When the man found that he was uninjured he was so thankful that he left the blood to dry on his face and never washed it at all, but left it until it peeled off.

"Where the claws of the lion scraped it off there were marks that turned brown in the sun, and where the blood stayed on it was lighter. Now all men paint their faces that way with blood and scrape it off in streaks when they hunt or go to war."

A Curious Sign.

If you are in a certain Irish town and are looking out for lodgings you would probably come to the conclusion that none are to be had, for, search as you will for the familiar "Apartments to Let" notice so often seen in the windows of houses in other places, you will search in vain. Instead you may observe fastened by the flap to the window a clean white envelope. This is an indication to all whom it may concern that apartments are to be had within. This curious custom is greatly in vogue at the seaside health resort, Killkee, County Clare, where all houses that have apartments to let exhibit a white envelope.

Faith and Works.

A pretty anecdote is related of a child who was greatly perturbed by the discovery that her brothers had set traps to catch birds. Questioned as to what she had done in the matter, she replied, "I prayed that the traps might not catch the birds." "Anything else?" "Yes," she said; "I then prayed that God would prevent the birds getting into the traps, and," as if to illustrate the doctrine of faith and works, "I went out and kicked the traps all to pieces."—Household Words.

The One Thing Lacking.

Anxious Mother—Why don't you marry young Swansen? He has good looks, good family, wealth and everything to be desired. Pretty Daughter—But there is one very important thing lacking, mamma. Anxious Mother—What is that? Pretty Daughter—A proposal.

A Good Distinction.

"Remember, son," said Uncle Eben, "dat in dis life you's bound to do some things you's sorry foh, but dat ain't no reason foh doin' nuffin' dat you's ashamed of."—Washington Star.

Ungratefulness is the very poison of manhood.—Sidney.

John Barnett Kills Albert Walsefield for Proclaiming That Former Was a Dangerous Man—Ancient Grudge
Back of Incident.

(By Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 19.—A News-Scimitar special from Marianna, Ark., says:

"Enraged at the action of John Barnett, a negro, in shooting and killing Albert Walsefield, another negro, last Sunday, because the latter circulated the report that Barnett was a dangerous man, twenty other negroes, employed in a levee camp near Askeew, have taken Barnett out and hanged him.

"Both Barnett and Walsefield came to the camp early last week and secured work. Walsefield had known Barnett before and told the boss of the camp that he was a dangerous man. Barnett heard of this and the shooting followed.

NAGGING PAINS

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903. Last summer while recovering from illness of fever, I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of liniments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism. 613 3rd St. CHAS. E. GILDERSLERVE.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and filtered out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy. Write for our special book on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about their case.

Recovered His Sword.
Captain T. A. Johnson yesterday received an express package from Chief of Police Sylvester, of Washington. The package contained a sword, which was lost by Captain Johnson several months ago, just before he resigned command of the Huntington Rifles.
